MISSIONARY ANNIVERSARY.

The Conference Missionary Anniversary was held Saturday night in Metropolitan Hall, Rev. T. W. Guthrie presiding. The Secretary, Rev. A. R. Rayen, presented his Annual Report, as follows:

REPORT OF BOARD OF MISSIONS, NO. I.

Nineteen Missions in the bounds of this Conference have been provided with the Gospel during the past year. All but one of them (Hunting Creek) have been reported to this Board. On most of these fields we notice evidences of improvement, while some have made most encourging progress toward be oming self supporting charges.

Every mission field in our bounds has passed under as careful a review by this Board as the reports of the Missienaries and other sources of information at our commend would allow. The result is we have feit justified in recommending the discontinuance of only one, viz: Calvary Missien, in Charlette,—believing that it ought to be and is self-sustaining. There are several other Missens which show hepeful signs of an early development into good self supporting circuits. That our people may the better appreciate the work of home evangelization and be constrained to contribute more liberally to this greaf work, we submit a few facts—out of many which might be given —for their consideration: In 1877-9 this Board appropriated the sum of $202.00 toward the support of Drowning Creek or White Sulphur Mission. A Society was organized, and 6) members were soon added by profession of faith; a good church was built, valued at $1200, which has since been attached to an adjoining circuit, and new pays annually its q tota of $10) towards the support of the pastor. Several new churches more also been built on some of our Mission fields during the past year, and several more are now being projected; "the poor"—who were unable to support a pastor unaided—thave had the Gospel preached unto them;" and, best of all, hundreds of souls have made profession of faith in Christ, and a good per cent of that number have been received into our church.

But, the full results, even here, of the labors of our faithful Missionaries cannot be estimated. What the Earl of Shaftsbury said of the London City Mission, that it was an instrumentality without which London would have become a den of horrors, an abode of wild beasts, may be as truly applied to some of the dark places cultivated by our Missionaries; but which, under the blessing of heaven upon their labors, are beginning to "bloom and blossom as the rose."

Several new and destitute regions have this year called upon our Board for the Gospel, and have been organized into Mission-fields for the coming year.

Help, brethren! help! And while we rejoice at the great door which is now open to our church to the very heart of China's 450 millions, let us not forget the Greeks who are at our doors.

A. R. RAVEN, Secretary, Conference Board Missions.

The Treasurer, Will. C. Doub, presented his report. MISSIONARY COLLECTIONS, 1882.

Their memories are precious.

They were men: and therefore none of them were absolutely faultless. They were subjects of Divine grace, and consecrated ministers of the Gospel, and therefore we may praise God as the author of their virtues and their works. REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON DIS. CON. RECORDS.

Your Committee, to whom was referred the examination of the District Conference Records, for the year 1882, beg leave to submit the following report:

The journals of the Raleigh, Hillsboro, Greensboro, Salisbury, Statesville, Charlotte, Wilmington, New-Berne and Warrenton District Conferences, 9 in number, have been placed in our hands.

The Journals of the Shelby, Fayetteville and Washington District

Conferences we have neither seen nor heard from.

We have patiently and carefully examined all in our possession, and are glad to say that the Records of the Raleigh, Hillsboro, Greensboro, Salisbury, Statesville, Charlotte, New-Berne and Warrenton District Conferences have been well kept and are in good condition; correct in form, complete in matter, recording everything that ought to be recorded and doing it in good plain English.

Too much cannot be said in praise of the admirable and almost perfect manner in which two or three of these Records have been kept.

We make the following criticisms on Records of the Wilmington District Conference: the form is irregular; the Record itself is meagre and unsatisfactory, not even giving the written report sent in by an absent pastor, and failing to record important facts and figures in the verbal reports of the pastors present.

We hope that in the future, all our Presiding Elders will have

We hope that in the future, all our Presiding Elders will have sufficient regard for the regulations of the Church, to see that the Journals of the District Conferences are faithfully kept and promptly presented at the Annual Conference as the law requires.

T. J. GATTIS.

On motion of Rev. N. H. D. Wilson, the Bishop was requested to re-appoint A. W. Mangum, Professor in the University of North Carolina.

Rev. J. J. Renn, chairman of the Committee on Sabbath Schools made the following report, which was adopted as amended:

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON SABBATH SCHOOLS.

Much zeal and interest are manifest, and much good is being done in the Sunday School work of our Confenence; but we have not reached the measure of duty and achievement in this open and fruitful field. There has been in every stage of its progress a healthy expansion of the Sunday School idea. New helps, new methods, new elements have been developed. That which, a century ago, was an institution intended to teach the little children of the poor and ignorant people to read and write, is now a Bible, Christian School, exhaustless in its resources, unlimited in its plans, infinite in its rewards, and intended to embrace all classes and conditions of society. The Bible is its text-book, and it may be studied profitably in the Sunday School by the wise and the unwise, the old and the young,

the rich and the poor, the righteous and the wicked.

We hold, therefore, that while the membership of the Church ought to embrace only converts to the faith, the Sunday School ought to take in everybody, and that its membership everywhere ought to be largely in excess of the church membership.

We greatly desire to see our people fully awake to the importance of this matter, and do earneastly recommend that our Pastors, Superintendents and Teachers labor to bring adults, as well as children, into the Sunday School. Let our people get above the idea that it is a place where only little children are gathered to recite the Catechism. Let them know what the Sunday School is, and what help it affords, and they will come in.

We hope that under the supervision of the Sunday School Board this very important branch of our Church work will soon be elevated to a higher plane of usefulness.

We submit the following resolutions:

1. That special attention be given to the instruction of our little children in singing, and in the Wesleyan Catechisms.

2. That Bible classes be organized in all our Schools for adults.—

See Discipline on duties of pastors.

3. That our preachers use their influence to induce Superintenc'ents to organize weekly Teachers' Meetings wherever it is at all practicable, and that the pastors attend the same as often as they can.

4. That our pastors give special attention to the appointment of Superintendents, and if possible secure young, pious, active, efficient

5. That our own Sunday School literature furnishes all needed helps to the study of the lessons; that we endorse and recommend it to all our Schools, and advise them to use no other.

6. That we nominate the following as the Sunday School Board, to hold office for four years, provided they are members of the Conference:

E. A. Vates, D. D., Jno, W. Hayes, V. A. Sharpe, W. F. Strowd, J. J. Renn, Prof. O. W. Carr, W. S. Creasy, R. R. Crawford, M. V. Sherrill, M. O. Sherrill, J. W. Jenkins, Dr. B. F. Dixen, W. S. Respectfully submitted.

A. R. RAVEN Secretary, Conference Board Missions.

Rev. L. S. Burkhead offered the following relating to Trinity College, which was adopted as amended:

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON EDUCATION.-NO 2.

Thinty College.—This, our cherished Institution of learning, that has sent out so many well trained young men to battle with the storms of life, and to work for God and humanity, has been suddenly bereft of its distinguished head, and made to pause in its career of usefulness. Dr. Braxton Craven, who was its very life and soul, was stricken down in a moment of time, and all stand and gaze and ask what was the indication of Providence intended by this startling event? The friends of the College, the Church, the whole State, join in solemn wonder at this dread mystery. He literally sacrificed his life to the cause of Christian Education. The College that he did so much to work up to a great success for the church and the world, is pressed down by a load of debt, that weighed upon his spirits and bafiled his aims. The noblest monument to his name, that his brethren could erect; the sweetest memorial they could dedicate to his memory, would be, to lift all this load of debt; raise a handsome endewment for the College, and send it forward in its work of benefactions to the world. The Conference has done well in providing for a part of the indebtedness; and now we must lift the small amount not provided for and then make a bold strike for a good endowment. The Committee, therefore, recommends the adoption of the following resolution:

Resolved, That our people are earnestly called upon to rally to the support of Trinity College with their means and patronage in this sad hour of her bereavement, and we do most heartily recommend it to all our people.

Dr. Burkhead offered the following relating to Greensboro College, which was adopted:

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON EDUCATION.—NO 3.

Greensboro Female College.—Whereas, Greensboro Female College, an Institution long cherished by our Conference and people for its noble work in the highest department of female culture, had become so burdened with debt, as to necessitate its sale by a decree of Coart, which took place at public auction on the 5th day of June last: and

Whereas, Several gentlemen came forward on the day of sale. and purchased the same from the North Carolina Railroad authorities, at their own risk, and at the cost of $27,981.00 and have kept the Institution open, and have offered it to this Conference on the same terms on which it was purchased; therefore,

Reso'ved 1. That we tender the thanks of the Conference to the Greensboro Female College Association for purchasing and holding the Institution, and for the generous order made to this body to redeem the College, and we deeply regret our inability to accept the proposition at present.

Resolved 2. That we are gratified to hear of the prosperous condition of the College under the new management, and with the assurance of the Association that they will continue to operate the College in the interest of Methodism, we hereby heartily recommend it to the patronage of our people.

Resolved 3. That we deeply deplore the fact that in consequence of the misfortune of the College in other years, a number of those who had long borne its financial burdens, and sacrificed much in its interest, sustained loss by reason of its sale.

Report by Dr. Burkhead, relating to Davenport College, was adopted:

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON EDUCATION.—NO 4.

Davenport Female College.—Seven years ago, the buildings of this Institution were destroyed by fire, and since then, earnest efforts have been made to restore them; but the main building is still unfinished. A good school has been kept during the present year, under the management of Rev. G. F. Round, a member of this Conference, and arrangements are being made to keep up a school, that will meet the wants of the community, till means can be raised to finish the buildings and open again as a boarding school. This valuable property is estimated to be worth $10,000, and we heartily sympathize with the trustees in their efforts to restore Davenport Female College to its former usefulness.

L. S. BURKHEAD, Chairman. W. C. Doub, Secretary, W. A. Wilborn, Ass't See't.

sisting of seven be elected by the Conference.

Rev. M. C. Thomas submitted the following report on the Bible Cause. Adopted:

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON BUBLE CAUSE.

We heartily acknowledge and accept the Bibl- as the only rule, and the sufficient rule both of our faith and practice. All scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteous-and is profitable for doctrine, for reprod, for correction, for instruction in righteenings; that the man of God may be perfect, thoroughly furnished and all good, werks, One of the immortal sayings is that of the cioquent Chillingworth; "The Bine, the Bost of Profest, arts," It is not possible to adequately estimate its value and benefit to us individually for the life and immortality it reveals; for its exwho and benefit to us individually for the life and immortality if reveals; for its exceeding great and precious promises, its comfort in sorrow, its support in trial, its upper in disappointment, its uncerting guidance over the rough, crooked, dangerous paths of this eventful life. Controlled by its wholesome tracenny, we shall, day by day, dwell in the secret place of the Most High and abide under the shadow of the Amighty, coming down to life's close with the blessed assurance of an entrance through the gages into a fullness of joy and pleasure forevermore just beyond Death's valley and shadow. Absent from the body present with the Lord.

Aptiy and truly styled "the Keystone of all had made greatness and true cultivation," wherever the Bible has been suppressed religion has degenerated into praesteraft, superstition has been rife, and under its bilghing influence the intellectual and moral life of the nation has withered. But, on the other hand, wherever it has been freely circulated, it has made its own way, and accomplished its own work, as its birtine Author said it should—in the clevation of the people, the prosperity of the mation, the purity of the priest-hood, the stability of the Church, and in everything to make a country great and free.

As uninsters of Jesus Christ we should so preach it as to be able to say with the make a country great and free.

As ministers of Jesus Christ we should so preach it as to be able to say with the chief of apostles: "I have not shunned to declare the whole counsel of God—not handling the word of God deceiffully; but, by manifestation of truth, commending ourselves to every man's conscience in the sight of God."

Binding the Bible to our hearts we unqualifiedly pronounce every form of oppsition, that men may devise against it, vanity and lies.

Let everlasting glories erown the Book, which has God for its author, unradulterated truth for its matter, the salvation of the whole human race for its end, and whose circulation should be co-extensive with the great commission: "Go ye into all the world and preach the Gospel to every creature."

We deem it proper to quote from the report of Dr. C. H. Wiley, District Superintendent for the American Bible Society: "The work of supply by colporteurs of the Parent Society has been diligently and systematically pressed in the field, and there are now only two counties to be entered on in S. C., and eighteen in this Staie, and the work of supply is going on in 3 counties in S. C., and in 12 in N. C. The work will be finished in the coming year and will be the greatest and most thorough ever undertaken in this region, and will include the supply of some 30,000 families, or your 150,000 soms with the Holy Scriptures, and the distribution of nearly 20,000 yolunes of the Divine in this region, and will include the supply of some 30,000 families, or over 150,000 somis with the Holy Scriptures, and the distribution of nearly 200,000 volumes of the Divino Oracles. This grand enterprise should excite the gratitude of all who love the Kingdon of the Lord Jesus Christ, and makes a loud call on the Church for increased zeal in the support of the American Bible Society, and of its officers and auxiliaries. On this subject," continues he, "the Methodist Branch of the church has never borne an uncertain testimony, and may 1 not expect the Conference now in session in Raleigh to make special and grateful mention of the work of benovolence of the American Bible Society within its bounds, to arge its congregations to be more faithful and libe Society within its bounds, to arge its congregations to be more faithful and libe and to the world, and to hold up the hands of the laborers in the field?"

RESOLVED, therefore. That we, the members of the N. C. Conference, cherishing active sympathy with, and a profound appreciation for, the grand work of the American Bible Society, will, during the ensuing year, raise, in our respective charges, collections to aid in the circulation of the Holy Scriptures.

Respectfully, M. C. Thomas, Chairman.

Rev. L. L. Nash from Committee on Books and Periodicals submitted the following report:

THE MAJORITY REPORT.

Your Committee has hal the important interest committed to it under prayerful consideration, and begleave to submit the following report:

The importance to the Church and to society of a sound religious literature is a self-evident fact. The power of the press is being felt for good or evil all over the land. Error in all its forms is being probagated by its instrumentality. Infidelity and corruption blacked ham mity, and obstruct the work of the Church by the circulation of impare literature; and the exigencies of the times demand dilligence and industry, on our part, in placing our books and papers in the hands of our people.

THE PUBLISHING HOUSE.

R so'ved 1. That we rejoice at the continued prosperity of our Publishing House, at Nashville Tennessee, and heartily recommend its publications to our people. Among these publications we call especial attention, to the Nashville Christian Advocate, the General Organ of our Church, as a first class religious paper, that cannot be too highly endorsed, or too heartily recommended to the patronage of our people.

The Southern Quarterly Review, Edited by Dr. Hinton of Georgia and published by a committee of the General Conference, is a first class review; and supplies the demand of our Ministers and people for that class of literature.

The Advocate of Missions, and the Woman's Missionary Advocate out on much valuable missionary intelligence and the low price at which they are offered to the Church, ought to secure for them a much larger circulation. Our Sunday School Literature is first class, and we recommend its use in all our Sunday Schools.

Resolved 2. That we heartily recommend the METHODIST ARMOR, written and published by Dr. H. T. Hudson, of our Conference, as a compendium of the doctrines and polity of our Church in every way worthy of our endorsement.

RALEIGH CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE.

Resolved 3. That the Ruleigh Christian Advocate, merits the hearty endorsement of this Conference, and of the Methodist Church within our bounds.

Reso'ved 4. That we recommend its continuance as the Organ of the North Carolina Conference as heretofore, and pledge to it our sympathy and support.

Resolved 5. That we again reiterate our unqualified approval of the course of its editors in not allowing its columns to be made the medium of contention and discord.

Reso'ved 6. That the Bishop be requested to reappoint W. S.

Black and F. L. Reid as Editors.

Respectfully submitted.

L. L. Nash, Chairman, George T. Simmons, Sec't.

Rev. T. Page Ricaud submitted the following minority report:

THE MINORITY REPORT.

A minority of your Committee on Books and Periodicals, desiring not to be bound by the action of the committee, and having given notice of such intention, beg leave to respectfully submit the following minority report—viz:

In so far as the committee have reported concerning the Nashville Alvocate, Quarterly Review, Advocate of Missions; all our Subbath School literature; all our standard works, and the Metho-DIST ARMOR, we agree with them, and accept this portion of their report as a part of this.

After agreeing with the committee as stated, we report:

We recommend that the Raleigh Christian Advocate, owned and published by Messrs. Black & Reid be endorsed, as the medium of odicial communication of the North Carolina Conference.

We congratulate the editors and proprietors of the Raleigh Christian Advocate, upon the improved appearance, enlarged size, and increased interest of the contents of their paper.

And believing that the paper is doing an I seeking to do good, we recommend it to the patronage of our people, and hope and pray, that it may continue to improve, in merit and usefulness, in their hands, by the grace of God, to carry forward the one great and central idea of our Church, the advancement of the Kingdom of Christ on earth.

E. L. McNabb, T. Page Ricaud, J. W. North.

Dr. Burkhead moved to substitute the minority roport for the majority report.

Rev. J. B. Alford submitted a report on Temperance, for which the following was offered as a substitute by Rev. N. A. Hooker, and a lopted by the Conference:

REPORT ON TEMPERANCE.

Whereas. The traffic and use of intoxicating liquers, as a beverage, are among the most fruitful sources of degredation and suffering in our land; therefore,

 $R^{\circ 30/v \in d}$ 1. That all our preachers in their pulpit ministration, official action, and private intercourse with the people, be requested to give special attention to the subject of temperance, as set forth in the 5th chapter of the late edition of the Discipline.

R so'red 2. That we invoke the earnest co-operation of all christian people in advancing the cause of temperance.

N. A. Hooker. ing vice of intemperance.

Rev. L. J. Holden of the Committee on Church Properry read the following report, which was adopted:

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON CHURCH PROPERTY.

Your Committee on Church Property submit the following report: The statistics show that in 1881 there were 817 churches, valued at \$759-\$25, 0.0; increase in number 21; increase in value \$715. There are now 806 churches, valued at \$832,933,00; decrease in number $11\frac{2}{3}$; increase in value \$43,609. There were in 1881, 78 parsonages, valued at \$97,375.00. There are now 89 parsonages, valued at \$102,280.00; increase in number 11; increase in value, \$4,864.

Your Committee find that a number of charges are without Parsonages, and we respectfully urge upon our people the importance of securing comfortable and convenient Parsonages on every Station Circuit and District; then require the preaches to occupy them, and in case the preachers refuse to do so, then and in that case that the property be rented out, and the proceeds applied to improvements, or as the proper authorities may direct.

Your Committee find that in some instances our people have not been careful to follow the dectrines of the Discipline in securing Fee Simple deed to church property, so that the church can sell and make a good title whenever it is deemed best to dispose of such property. See Discipline § 160, page 203, sec. 3.

The attention of your Committee having been called to the question of dividing parsonage property in case of division of circuits, we respectfully refer to Discipline ¶ 161-162, page 206, and we further recommen I that all money raised for parsonages shall be reported and the several churches credited by their several amounts. So that in case of a sale or division each church shall receive its pro, rata share of the proceeds of such sale or division.

We beg leave to repeat the remark of Bishop Pierce that stoves in the churches were means of grace; therefore,

Resolved, That we respectfully urge our preachers and people to put store; in our churches an I make them colmortable,

L. J. HOLDEN, Chairman.

Rev. L. L. Nash presented the following resolution. which was adopted:

Resolved. That the pastors be requested to take a collection for the Oxford Orghan Asylum at sometime during the Conference Jao. R. Brooks, J. B. Bobett, vear.

L. L. HENDREN.

On motion of Rev. L. W. Crawford it was ordered that members of the Conference take up a collection in their charges in the month of May, for the benfit of Edenton St. Church, Raleigh.

The minutes were then read and approved.

After an affecting exhortation to the Conference, the Bishop announced the appointments.

Then, on motion of A. W. Mangam, the Conference adjourned sine die, the Bishop pronounced the benediction.

REV. WILLIAM CLOSS, D.P.

William Closs was born in Rotetourt county, Va., in the year 1809, and died at the relaces of his daughter in the village of Entield, N. C., July 8, 1882.

In his early youth he had few religious advantages. This conversion was remarka-

The Was unaccustomed to attend public worship; and his conviction was attracted by himself neither to any sermon nor to any special reading of the Scriptures, but to the irresistible influence of the Holy Spirit. Thus led to realize that he was a sinner to sought the services of the church. When by faith he found the peace which passeth is sought the services of the church. When by faith he found the peace which passeth is a sought the services of the church. a sough the services of the endren. When by latth he found the peace which passeth is decreased in the received also a full assurance of his divine sonship. With this assurance there came a conviction of his call to preach the gospel—a call which he never could d. This was the secret of his power. God was his strength.

He was received into the Virginia Conference during its session in Petersburg in 1822, and was identified with the N. C. Conference from its organization. For nearly lifty years he was an able and efficient preacher of the Gospel. For twenty-eight years have a Presiding Filter, and was secretal times checked to the Gospel.

le was Presiding Elder, and was several times elected to the General Conference; indeed his election to serve in that venerable body was regarded as a matter of course until he requested that his name be not voted for in the quadrennial choice of delegates.

He was a profound thinker, a learned theologian, a logical and incisive preacher, Westermans in substance and in structure were unique, compact, strong, oftentimes grandly eloquent, and always impressive.

spandy coquent, and always impressive.

Spaking of Dr. Clo's's ability as a debater, Pishop Pierce said of him, "He has not an equal in the Southern church." As was truly said of him by another, "He was conscious of his strength, and therefore fearless of any odds. He did not float with the cld's but crossed it at a thousand points. He quailed not at the critical of the present, emeious that the tribunal of the future would rectify all errors and justify his wisdom." His views on every question affecting the doctrines or the polity of his church were clear and positive. He never he stated to defend his position. His arguments ere clear and strong, often prefound; and none knew better than he the power of w'() but his wit was never poisoned with personal rancor, and made no ic-tering wounds in the hearts of his brethren; and he could yield when convinced.

In social intercourse he united in his conversation the vivacity and freshness of youth with the dignity of a strong manhood and the simplicity of ebildhood with the wisdom of age. Young and old listened alike with unbroken interest to his fireside and table talk, so full of information, so like a divine harmony with its undertone and overten of gospel faith-so aptly freshened with pleasant ancedote.

In one respect, among many others, his conversation was remarkable. It was singularly pure. In a day when a blent for vulgar buffronery is too often the popular test of fitness for public office. William Closs remembered in every circle that he was a gen lem in and a christian. To his friends he was always faithful—always generous. e knew what it was to show a christly sympathy for suffering. To his opponents we do not know that we could justly term any man his enemy-he was forgiving and magraniaous. A man of strong affections—loving his home, and delighting in the society of wife and lehildren, he sacrificed in a large degree the confort and happiness of home, that he might go and preach the gospel. As Presiding Flder, in the faithful discharge of laborious duty, he spent more than half his time—very often weeks and so metimes months together—away from his home. He was twice married; and the church mourns with his surviving wife and children.

William Closs made his mark upon the pages of the history of our church. He good fight. He kept the faith, A crown of righteonsness is surely his. We thank God that such a man lived and labored and died among us; and now that his noble spirit has ascended, we pray that the mantle of his power and usefulness may ic-t upon us!

_____ REV. BENNETT T. BLAKE.

Rev. Bennett Taylor Eleke, the oldest member of the N. C. Conference in years of successive services was born in Southempton county, Va., January 3, 1830, and died at his residence in Wake county, N. C., May 28, 1882, in hope of a glorious immortality. His parents were Ellis Gray Blake and Mary Taylor. It is father removed from Boston, Mass., to Southampton county, Va., some time in the latter part of the last century. The family were lineal descendants of an ancestor who was closely related to the distinguished Rebert Blake, the great English Admiral who rendered the name and powers of the English navy so filustrious in the anvals of the commonwealth. It is still a large family, having representatives in many parts of the United States, from Poston to San Francisco. They have carefully kept their family records, and can trace their lineage from the ancestor that came to Massachusetts after the extinction of the their lineage from the ancestor that came to Massachusetts after the extinction of the commonwealt!

When Vr. Eleke was eight years old, his parents removed to Petersburg, Va., where his mother died in 1811, and his father in 1815. He was engaged as a clerk in a large mercandile establishment in Petersburg until he entered the ranks of the itinerant min-

1 try, His er politunities for education were about equal to those of the youth of his own age and times. He retained a fair knowledge of the latta elements during life, but has tastes led han rather to the cultivation of posite Eterature. His religious education was entirely neglected, but by attending claurel, he learned much about the catachasms of the Episcopal church, and its forms of worship. He attended the ministrations of other churches for the most part, but was travour into a tended the ministrations of other churches for the most part, but was travour into a tended the deliment times to hear the Metho list preachers that were stationed in Petersburg. In the year 1822, Hezekiah G. Leigh was stationed there, and by instead and eloquence, attracted large congregations. In a memorandum found among his papers, Mr. Bake says: "I but attraded his ministry for some months. On one occurred to the previous distribution of the previous why were consequed for the x-ray 2 substant to the consequence. sion he invited all persons who were concerned for the resons' salvation to meet him at the church bailding on the afternoon of the next Wednesday. I was the only person that met him, and for the first ti ne had conver ation with a minister of the gospel. He spoke tenderly and kindly to me as a father would to his son seeking advice.

"There had been no apparent excitement until on randay evening after my interview, when the pastor invited all who wished to fice from the wratal to come, and be when when the jaster invited an who wished to free from the wrath to come, and be saved, to come and kneel at the altar for instruction and prayer. I toose immediately, went forward and kneeled. Soon the altar was crowded with weeping penitents. There followed a genuine revival, the first I had ever with said. For dight of penitential sorrow, and holy rejoicing among the young converts and old members, I have, after sixty years experience, never seen its equal.

His conviction was deep, and his conversion genuine and thorough. As soon as he was converted, he began to exhort others to accept Jesus as their Savior and friend, exhibited great zeal in attending upon the services of the sanettary, and earnest y avaiel himself of all the means of grace. Just at that time, in the absence of all the ministers of the city, he was called upon to perform a public ministration, which, with much diffidence and some fear, he did to the satisfaction of all. Thus was he pointed out, as if by a special providence, as one called to the work and office of a minister, by the choice of the people amongst whom he dwelt. He had already experienced some movings of the Holy spirit in the direction of the sacred calling, but afraid, lest less zent for others in his first emotion of gratitude to God for his own conversion might wrongfuny others in his first emotion of gratitude to God for his own conversion ingain wrongfungly head him to intrinde into the ministry, he shrank from undertaking so holy a task without further evidence of a diwne call. He consulted with his friends, and especially with his pastor. At last he mentioned some of his cloubts and reasons for hesitating, to his Presiding Elder—afterwards Bishop—Rev. John Early. In his characteristic style, Mr. Early replied, "Get your saddle-bags, young man; get your saddle-bag." He was received on trial into the Vigrinia Conference in 1821; and from the beginning he was an acceptable, faithful, successful infinister of the Go-pel. Without detailed his accessive among turner, during the ways of his collection.

He was an acceptable, failthful, successful minister of the Gospel. Without detailing his successive appointments during the years of his cite-tive ministry, it is sufficient to say that from the first he served important fields; and that in every department of work to which he was assigned in the order of Divine providence, he wrought wisely and well. As pastor, Presiding El ler, as delegate to the General Conferences of 1813 and 1844, and to the Conference at Louisville, which organized the M. E. Charch, South; is agent for Greensboro College, and as a teacher; at all times, and in every enterprese, he was workman that needed not to be ashamed, and showed himself approved of God. He was twice married, and to the son of his old age who survives him, he leaves a precious lexacy; the memory of a holy and useful life, and an untarished name. In the words of one who knew him long and intimately, "His long life was a beneficious to his family, friends and church. * * * The influence of his life and labors as a preceder, an educator, a citizen and writer, will larger behind him, now that he is gone. Brother Coon first traveled the S. Iredell (now Mooresvi'le) circuit as a supply in 1872. At the following conference he was received on trial and appeared to the same charge the three following years; the next four years he filled St. 1884 set? e. S. attoir. At the expiration of the hall pastoral term he was a pointed to the Mocks he Circuit, from which, after two years of labor, embracing several montas of teebleness and saftering, ne was called to his reward.

As a man, physically, he was of stender, delicate mould—mribe long to endure the rough, trying experience of practical life. Netwithstanding his frazility of body, he did not shrink from assiduous intellectual application of the ardon us duties of the inherant ministry. With carnest devotion his pure noble sour, wielded its feeble instrument till it feel shattered in the milest of thoors and responsibilities.

Intellectually, he was richly endowel. He combined in humanoious measure micromoduly—reason logically, clothe his thought in the most be autiful diction, construct his discourse according to the most perfect grammier, precision apparently without effort—while perfectly free tron self-consciouses a and padantee. In manifer the assay as a scale, anniable and sympathetic as a woman. He was guileless. He thought on his pan, In conversation he indulged in no dublous or hurful jests, natured us of paper is with no one—we will do no one. There was no venom on his tongue or caustic on his pan. In conversation he indulged in no dublous or hurful jests, natured us of paper with no one—easing and abding—his coloudless sky. His apprehension of Christ was cear—his appropriation of his nearits free and heavy—his consciousness of Divine love deep and abding—his consecution unreserved, eatire, and the Lord and the late of the was the control of his nearits free and heavy—his consciousness of Divine love deep and abding—his consecution unreserved, eatire, and its beautiful to a cloudless sky. His apprehension of Christ merits free and hearty—his consciousness of Divine love deep and abiding—his consecration increaser, and irrevocable. It was a living sacrinee, and the Lord sanctified the offering. In his experience was summarized the law and in his life was is expression. "Thou shalt love the Lord thy G d with all the heart; and they nighbor as thyself," was in him a living consciousness, and found concretion in tellow his with his kind. There was no offensive egotism about him. He did not "hink of himself more highly than he ought to think." His opinion of himself was humble—hardly as exaited as it should be in order to safe self-assertion. Yet, this was not from want of individuality or solid and profound convictions, but from unseillshiess and whole-souled generosity. It was that ingenious, free spirit of altruism which views and loves the interests of others, and sacrifices on the alter of the public good. As was said of his Master, so night it be said of him: "He saved others—himself he can not save." Hence, when he saw his health failing, he sought no change, but passively submitted to labor and suffer on.

Bro. Coon's type of religion was Johnian. He might fitly be called the beloved disciple because of the trustfalness and sweet simplicity of his spiritual life. There was nothing noisily conspicuous or demonstrative in his religious profession or exercise, but the calmiess of perfect frust, and the gentleness of perfect love. His spirit was like the placid lake that slumbers in the storm, reflecting as a mirror every image around and about it. He mirrored forth the lineaments of his Lord from every side of his beautifully developed life. So clear and immistakable was the evidence that no one ever questioned his integrity or entertained the shadow of a doubt regarding his piety. As a preacher and co-worker with his Lord, he was far above ordinary. Wherever he wrought, fruits followed. Spiritual in his ministry, loving in his pastorate, patient and zealous in ladors, both circuit and station immediately began upward and onward movement. True to vows, the Lord honored and blessed his ministry. In the great day of clernity, many will be the stars that will shine resplendent in his erown of rejoicing. But his work among us is done. The sword of a worthy captain has fallen from the nerveless hand, and his shout of onset has died among the redeemed he wears heavenly vestments, and with was nothing noisily conspicuous or demonstrative in his religious profession or exerthe advancing hosts, but among the redeemed he wears heavenly vestments, and with his Lord he sils crowned. He rests from his labors—his works follow him, Raleigh, Dec. 11th, 1882.

---0-0--REV. WILLIAM M. JORDAN.

Rev. Wm. M. Jordan was born in Goochland county, Va., April 5th, 1813, and died in Roxboro, N. C., Feb. 25th, 1832. Some time in the summer of 1830, being then in his 17th year, he, in company with a friend, visited a Sunday School which had been organized by two christian women, in a small log cabin, into which a few of the children of the neighborhood had been gathered. On this, the occasion of his first visit, he received the truth with such vividness of his lost condition, that it led him with a broken and contrile heart to the Mercy Seat, seeking peace and pursuing it, until he found the pearl of great price. While alone with God in his chamber, in the darkness and silence of the night, he felt the cleansing blood of Jesus Christ, and,rejoiced in the consciousness of pardon and acceptance with God. His visit to this Sunday School was, in the sight of man, a trivial affair, but it changed the current of his life—turnif run hell's destructive way into the path of honor, glory and immortality.

In the February of 1833 he joined the Va. Conference at Petersburg; was ordained deacon by Bishop Morris in 1836, and an elder in 1838 by Bishop Hedding. On September 27th, 1811, he was married to Miss Ann E. Page, to whose christian devotedness he was largely indebted for his success in the ministry.

was largely indebted for his success in the ministry

Bro. Jordan was in the itinerant work forty-nine years without a hiatus, but at the session of the N. C. Conference held at Durham, in 1881, being conscious that his work session of the 3. C. Cometerice heat a Purmain, in 1984, being conscious discussions was nearly done, he quietly lay aside his well-used armor as a soldier of Christ, and asked for the relation of a superannuate. He was a true man—one who loved the truly, feared food, and worked righteousness. His preaching was unimpassioned, but the matter of his sermons indicated hard study and careful preparation. In doctrine he was thoroughly Methodistic, and in the execution of his work as a pastor he was faithful and fearless—not being afraid to use the pruning knife upon offending members, which he always did in tenderness but with firmness. In his natural disposition he was which he always did in tenderness but with firmness. In his natural disposition he was gentle and full of sympathy, and in his manners mobtrusive. He was free from self-i liness, and no one ever thought of him, as a seeker of place or power. He accepted his appointments without nurmuring, with an unfaltering faith in God, and did his work wed. Of him it may be truly said, that he "served his generation by the will of God, fell on sleep, and was laid unto his fathers." Brother William M. Jordan has gone from among us to be with Christ the Lord forever. He is among the wise, who shall shine as the brightness of the firmament—and baving turned many to rightcousness, he "is as the stars forever and ever."

0-0-REV. SAMUEL B. DOZIER.

Rev. Samuel B. Dozier was received into the N. C. Conference at its session in 1853; labored faithfully and effectively as an itinerant preacher for several years, when failing health compelled him to have his name enrolled upon the superammated list of the Conference, and died at his home in Lenoir county, N. C., in May, 1882.

In the day of his activity he showed himself a zealous, evangelical preacher, and a man of pure and gentle spirit; and though the years of his ministry were few, we are a sured that he did not live in vain. For many years the hand of addiction had been haid heavily upon him. A wreck in mind and body—suffering greatly from ever recurring pain and mental depression—denied all social pleasure by reason of his infirmity—in patience unnurmering he waited the time of his release. When he had apparently forgotten all other names and faces, save the name and face of the devoted wife who watched over him with untiring love, there was yet a brightening of his face, a quivering of his lips, a benigning of tears in his eyes when the name of Jesus was mentioned that made it manifest that he knew and loved that precious name. When he could not speak of other things, he could yet utter words that told his faith in Christ, and his lope of glory. When incapable of leading the devotions of his household, he would

Figure of grory. Which meaning or leading the deviations of mass long atom, we will make with fervent Amens in the prayers that were offered in his chamber.

By disease bereft of reason, he seemed to manifest his divinely-given faith almost as long as he retained his consciousness; and he was evidently a marvel of grace—a man wise unto salvation. Death to him was but the touch of the Divine hand, healing man wise unto salvation. Death to him was but the touch of the Divine hand, healing the infirmity that had preyed upon his mind and body through so many weary years, by faith we may see him now, within the veil, sitting at the feet of Jesus, "clothed and in his right mind;" or anon-worshipping with the Apocalyptic throng, and saying—"Amen: Blessing, and glory, and wisdom, and thank-siving, and honour, and power and might be into our God forever and ever, Amen." And one of the clders answered, saying unto me, "What are these which are arrayed in white robes, and whence came they?" And I said unto him, "Sir, thoa knowest." And he said unto me, "These are they which came out of great tribulation, and have washed their robes and made them white in the blood of the Lamb." Therefore are they before the throne of God, and serve him day and night in his temple; and he that sitteth on the throne shall dwell among them."

----()---()-----REV. J. RANDOLPH FINLEY, D.D.

Rev. J. Randolph Finley, D.D., though nominally a local preacher, had been serving as a supply on several important fields in our bounds. He died suddefuly in Warr or county while on a visit to friends in July, 1882. Dr. Finley was born in Baltimore in 1810. He enjoyed the advantages of high literary enture, and entered the Baltimore for the conference while a young man. We regret our inability to give a fuller history of his life. He, however, served the church in various fields, and was for a time a member of the Kentneky Conference; also of the Tenne see. For several years he was President of a Female College in Tenn. He subsequently became a arc, ber of the Va. Conference, filled important stations, and served as Presiding Eleber. He was afterward chosen pastor of an Independent Methodist Church in Baltimore, From this he was called to labor for the Maryland Tract Society. To this he devoted his best energies and with success, It did not, however, sait his mate. He resigned and took the work from which he was so suddenly called.

The following pastoral charges made no Financial Report: Oak Hill Mission, Franklinsville Circuit, Davidson Mission, Hunting Creek Mission, John's River Mission, Cherry Mountain Circuit, South Mountain Mission, Rockingham Circuit, Pamlico Mission, Robersonville Mission.

Thirty circuits made their Financial Report by giving the sum total, and not by churches. Several charges reported the total for Missions in one column, not dividing the sum between Home and Foreign.

Hence, the impossibility of printing the Financial Reports in the Minutes by churches, as may have been expected.

By the assistance of Dr. Hudson and Revs. A. R. Raven and B. R. Hall, we have footed up the tables and given the sum total, as heretofore.
